3 Redneck Tenors Return to the Keystone Theatre

Part standup comedy, part concert, and part musical comedy, the 3 Redneck Tenors return to the stage of the Keystone Theatre on Friday, November 14 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for the performance are $25 and are hot items for the next installment of Bradford County's Regional Arts Council's 20th Anniversary Season of Nightlife on the Susquehanna.

This group played to a full house three years ago when the 3 Redneck Tenors premiered their anti-opera musical comedy. But don't be fooled, this is a trio of serious melodic talent; country boys who sing like angels and just happen to be sporting mullets. And there is not one Redneck joke in the show, no rebel flag, and nothing malicious. It is a show with a lot of heart, akin to old-time vaudeville with great music and pristine three-part harmony.

It is the story of Billy Bob, Billy Joe, and Billy Billie, three cousins who mix NASCAR with Beethoven, lite beer with Puccinni and even kick up a little dust with Ave Maria Dixie. Discovered by a slick city agent, the trio embarks on a tour of the country in search of the perfect venue for their talents. From the Masonic Lodge to the great Carnegie Hall, hold on to your seats for this quest.

The 3 Redneck Tenors will keep you crying in your seats from laughter. With only one aim – to entertain, there are not points to be made, no political views to share. This is Homer meets the Metropolitan Opera, The Beverley Hillbillies at the Lyric Opera of Chicago, and a bit of bathroom humor combined with exquisitely performed classical, pop, and country music.

Matthew Lord, creator and member of the 3 Redneck Tenors is a graduate of Julliard's School of Opera, and has performed with the San Francisco Opera, Lyric Opera of Chicago, the Washington Opera and the Metropolitan Opera. 3 Redneck Tenors features a cast of veteran Broadway and opera stars including John Wilkerson, Alex Bumpas, Matthew Lord and Dinny McGuire
